1. The airfield on the northwest perimeter of Joehvi (27°25'E/59°29'N), Estonian SSR, between the town border and pit No 2, north of the railroad freight station, was about 600 x 800 x 1,000 meters. The railroad line to Tallinn (24°45'E/59°26'N) was south of the airfield. Field boundaries were marked by rotted sign-boards.
2. Biplanes took off and landed at the field during the period from 1947 to the Spring of 1948. A railroad spur to the Kukruse (27°20'E/59°24'N) pit was laid in the Summer of 1948. A 4-meter wide water ditch was dug across the field in the Fall of 1948. The airfield has not been used by aircraft since the Spring of 1948.

Comment:

- a. This is the first post-war report on the Joehvi airfield, which is a former training field, unused since 1948.
- b. According to other reports, other troops, particularly parachute and airborne, have been stationed near Joehvi. These troops use a training field, and probably two airfields.
